CERTIFICATE IN GRANT WRITING

Securing a grant involves many skills, especially writing. DePaul's Certificate in Grant Writing teaches you the art and science of writing successful proposals.

In this 10-week program, you'll gain a better understanding of how to research funding prospects, craft a persuasive argument and create effective proposals. By the end of the class, you'll have the skill set needed to undertake the different challenges of grant writing.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This program is geared towards those seeking funds for nonprofit organizations. Grant writers seeking skill enhancement, nonprofit employees and volunteers and people seeking marketable skills in the NPO environment are encouraged to attend. Artists and scholars seeking personal support for projects also will benefit from this class.

Note: This class requires and assumes a core competency in expository writing and focuses on extending these skills into the specialized technical writing involved in fundraising.

HOW YOU WILL BENEFIT

- Gain a better understanding of philanthropy and the nonprofit sector
- Learn how to create both an introductory letter of inquiry (LOI) and a full proposal
- Improve your ability to communicate your ideas through extensive peer review
- Participate in lively discussions on topics ranging from donor cultivation to grant writing ethics
